- Adjudicators:
 - Chair: Manages the room, times speeches, and submits the decisive ballot.
 - Panelists: Voting judges who assist the Chair.
 - Trainees: Non-voting judges.

Speech Durations

- Substantive Speeches: 7 minutes.
- Reply Speeches: 4 minutes.
- Grace Period: A 15-second margin is allowed. At 7:15, judges stop taking notes. At 7:30, the Chair will call "Order" to end the speech.

Speaking Order:

Responsibilities

- Opening (PM/LO): Define the motion, set the model/clash, and present core arguments.
- Deputies (DPM/DLO): Rebut opponents, rebuild team cases, and provide new substantive analysis.
- Whips: Summarize the debate into key "clashes." No new arguments (though new analysis/examples/weighing of existing points are permitted).
- Reply: Provide a "biased adjudication." Must be delivered by the 1st or 2nd speaker. No new material is permitted.

Preparation and Motion Selection Procedure

Motion Selection:

One motion is selected via the mutual veto/voting method (within the first 5 minutes of release)

Preparation:

30 minutes total (including selection and movement to the debate room)

Materials:

Printed matter is allowed during prep but cannot be read verbatim or used at the podium.

Consultation:

Teams may only prep with their teammates. Use of the internet or external assistance is strictly prohibited.

Points of Information (POIs)

Window:

Allowed between 1:00 and 6:00 of substantive speeches. Reply speeches are entirely protected.

Procedure:

Opponents stand and say "POI." The speaker may accept or decline.

Cooldown: If a POI is declined, the opposing team must wait 15 seconds before attempting another.

Engagement:

Speakers should accept at least one POI. Judges may penalize "low engagement" if a speaker refuses all POIs despite being offered many.

Cutting Off:

Speakers may cut off a POI after it is clear, but must allow enough time (usually a few seconds) for the point to be made.

Judging Principles

The Ordinary Intelligent Voter (OIV):

Judges must assess the round as a person with broad general knowledge but no technical expertise.

Neutrality:

Judges must disregard personal biases and evaluate only the logic and evidence presented.

Balloting:

After the round, judges have 10 minutes to deliberate privately. The team with the higher total speaker points must be the winner.

Scoring:

Speaker and judging scores are awarded as per the guidelines of WUDC manual.

Offline Conduct & Etiquette

Table Talk:

Quiet communication between teammates at the table is permitted but must not disturb the speaker at the podium.

Electronic Devices:

All phones must be on silent and placed face-down. Digital note-taking is only permitted with prior Equity approval.

Timing Signals :

- 1 Knock/Clap: End of first minute (POIs open).
- 1 Knock/Clap: At 6:00 (POIs closed).
- 2 Knocks/Clap: At 7:00 (Speech time over)
- Continuous Knocking/Clapping for 5 sec: At 7:15 (Grace period over)

The “Ironperson” Policy:

In the event, a teammate might fall ill or be absent. In such a case, they can form an “Ironperson” team.

The Conduct: One speaker from the team of two delivers both the 1st and 3rd substantive speeches.

The Scoring: The “Ironperson” receives two separate speaker scores. For the purpose of the “Team Total,” both scores are added. However, for “Speaker Rankings,” only the higher of the two is counted

- A person can Iron only for 2 rounds at max.
